2013 COLORADO VOLLEYBALL OUTLOOK

Preseason Q&A With Head Coach Liz Kritza

Question: Last year was a huge step for Colorado Volleyball with making the NCAA Tournament and moving up in the Pac-12. How do you plan to keep the momentum going into the 2014 season?

Answer: While we were pleased to see the significant improvement from one season to the next, the key to keeping it going is to remain focused on the right things. We return the driving force for that improvement last season and everyone was compelled to improve during the offseason and continue making strides in the Pac-12 and across the national landscape as well. Adding a strong recruiting class of players who can complement the returners, a focused effort in the training gym every day, and a team first approach to everything we do will play a big part in the overall success of this team this season.

Q: Part of last season's great successes came from the senior class, which consisted of six players. How do you plan on replacing those key players?

A: We anticipated graduating a large class last year and are excited to have some of the younger players fill some of those key roles as they have been training hard to develop to be ready. Additionally, we were able to bring in a strong freshman class that provides a nice boost of athleticism, size, and quickness to be able to continue advancing the level of volleyball being played in our gym. While it can be difficult to replace experience, our roster continues to improve every year as part of the strategic plan to build this program to new heights.

Q: The three wins against ranked opponents were obviously big for the program, as well as defending the Coors Events Center. Moving forward, how do you plan to keep these wins coming at home?

A: Defending your home floor is a pretty special endeavor that all great teams take on. We love playing in the friendly confines of Coors Events Center and love the Buff fans, so we take great pride in playing well at home and coming up with some of those big wins in front of our home crowd. Wins against opponents that are ranked higher are a function of being committed to preparation and having courage to make plays and decisions during match time to come away with the win. I encourage our team to continually challenge themselves to be better with each match and if we can play high level volleyball every day in our gym, then the likelihood of coming away with more of those wins goes up, but every match is huge for us this season, and fewer of those will be big upsets because the perspective is changing for our program.

Q: The Pac-12 advanced nine teams to the NCAA Tournament in 2013? How do you keep your team motivated to play in such a tough conference night in and night out?

A: Keeping the team motivated to play in the best conference in the country is not difficult if we keep bringing in the right players. Every great player wants to play with and against the best in the nation, and our league affords that opportunity every night. We have very competitive players on this team and if your want to be the best, you have to play the best, and beat the best. That is a huge part of why they chose to don a Buffs jersey and play for this program, and serves as the impetus for testing ourselves against the best teams in the nation and taking on the difficult challenge of preparing for competing in such a strong league.

Q: Let's break down the positions this season, starting at setter. Nicole Edelman returns and is joined by freshman Gabby Simpson. With the talent in that position, will you be tempted to run a 6-2?

A: The setting position is crucial for all high level teams and we are excited to have Nicole back and healthier than ever. She has worked incredibly hard during the offseason and we look forward to her advancement this season as she continues as a captain and an integral component of our team. True competition makes the best players better, and that is exactly what we have in our gym now with the addition of freshman Gabby Simpson. The two of them work together and challenge each other to raise the overall level of this team and really good things will come from that. As for which offensive system we will run, I like having the options that we have now, but it is too early to set something in stone.

Q: Kelsey English returns for her senior year and was a strong presence in the middle last year, but Nikki Lindow, who graduated, led the Buffs in blocks for the last four seasons. How do you replace her presence at the net?

A: While we are very proud to send Nikki Lindow off to play professionally in German, it definitely presents us with some holes to fill in our blocking and attacking through the middle. However, we are pleased to have Kelsey English back with another year of experience and I am certain that she will be primed for her most productive season yet. Sophomore Katelyn Cuff returns to the court after rehabbing during the offseason and we are excited to see what she will be able to add to the mix in the middle as well. The addition of fifth year senior, Rachel Hargis, and freshman, Anna Pfefferle, provide us with more size and athleticism in the middle, which is a necessity in the Pac-12 and the top level of NCAA Volleyball.

Q: Taylor Simpson transferred to CU and earned AVCA All-Pacific South Region honorable mention honors as well as All-Pac-12 honorable mention. She led the team in kills and points and was obviously one of the best players on the team. What does it mean to be able to have her on the team for another season?

A: Taylor's return is significant as she provides stability as an athlete and a competitor. She has an incredible focus about her in preparation for this season, likely something that was heightened and honed in her two training stints with the USA Volleyball Senior National Team in Anaheim, Calif. this offseason. She is an accomplished player by all measurements, but she has taken a much bigger leadership role on this team and it will be a big positive as our team chases down our goals for this season.

Q: Who else can we expect to see play on the outside position?

A: I am excited to have Alexis Austin returning as a junior this season. With the playing experience she has coupled with her athleticism and a strong offseason, things are looking good for Alexis this season. Senior Neira Ortiz Ruiz returns to compete for us on the pin as well and she is showing great maturity and focus which will bode well for her. She provides great size and offensive production for us in this position. Sophomore Joslyn Hayes will compete for a spot on the outside as well and she has done significant work to be competition ready, and I am sure she will contribute greatly to this team's success this season. Freshman Stephanie Shadley is a great addition on the pins because she brings a great mix of athleticism, speed, and is a feisty competitor that will be able to hold her own on the court this season.

Q: Cierra Simpson stepped into the libero position early in the season last year, and a couple other Buffs, Jessica Aschenbrenner and Elysse Richardson, spent a lot of time in the back row. With the departure of Aschenbrenner and Richardson, who will be looked at to step up and play more on defense?

A: As with any good program, the evolution of the team thrives on players developing from one season to the next and true competition in all positions, the libero and defensive specialist positions are no different. CeCe has continued to show her prowess through serve reception and has worked very hard throughout the offseason to elevate her skill levels in all her areas of responsibility. She is competing daily with sophomore Gwen Herring, who is making significant strides in her development as well, and brings a fiery approach to the court on defense. Junior Erin Taylor is competing hard for a defensive spot and is showing improvement, especially in serve reception. Sophomore Kat Hawkins brings just as much to the team with her athletic ability and skill as she does with her attitude and team first mentality, which can be rare in college athletics.

Q: Who will play the biggest role in getting the team back to the NCAA Tournament in 2014?

A: The success of this team is the team. While we have strong players, and some will carry bigger loads for the team on any given night, it really will be the team that will determine how high we can reach this year.

Q: Your coaching staff basically remained intact despite Kevin Campbell leaving since you elevated Ryal Jagd after he served two seasons as a volunteer. How important is it to have the same staff from such a successful 2013 campaign?

A: Continuity in coaching is very important for young players, especially for a program that is improving at a rapid rate, like ours. Retaining Ryal Jagd on staff as a full time coach is a key component in creating that continuity. His abilities clearly help players develop the skills and competitive edge necessary to be successful in the Pac-12 and in postseason play. Continuity is also a key element of a thorough recruiting strategy that ensures there is a complete roster from year to year comprised of highly talented and extremely competitive players. Ryal brings that to the table for this program and we are glad that he is part of this Buff family.

Q: Several Buffs had the chance to play for their national teams this past spring and summer. How will that experience help the team this season?

A: Playing for your respective country's national team is a remarkable experience and we have had multiple players on our team share in this experience. This past offseason, it was Taylor Simpson and Neira Ortiz-Ruiz's turn. Taylor was called to the USA Volleyball National Team twice, which is a not just a feather in her cap, but a visible sign that she is elevating her game to the level that will not only help her lead this team to a championship, but eventually to a world class playing career, once she is finished playing collegiately. Neira was called to compete for the Puerto Rican National Team in the Pan-American Games held in Mexico this past June. Beyond being proud of both players for being selected, this type of competition adds a new dimension to their understanding of the game and I always encourage my players to play internationally, because it allows players to develop to the highest possible level. All players who are serious about their craft have international play as part of their overall development.

Q: Just like in the past, the schedule is loading with many ranked opponents. How will the nonconference schedule prepare the team for the tough challenge of the Pac-12 season?

A: The nonconference season has a strong balance of different types of teams to ensure that we are ready for the Pac-12 season as well as present a strong resume to the NCAA selection committee when it comes time to be discussing postseason play. Our nonconference slate is all about preparation and being able to have all facets of our team ready to go to make a run for a championship. Taking on two Big Ten opponents, Illinois (No. 11) and Northwestern, and well as Creighton (No. 23) are great opportunities to not only prepare the team for Pac-12 competition, but also to show our progress as a team in taking on top teams in conferences around the country. The four weeks of nonconference play are a very important phase for the overall season, because it will be where the team forms its identity and all our strengths and weaknesses are revealed. How we respond is probably the most important part of this segment of the season because that is the difference between teams that can win championships and other teams that have a good season.

Colorado native Liz Kritza was named the fourth head volleyball coach in University of Colorado history on February 10, 2009 and is in her sixth year at the helm of the program.

Kritza has been growing the CU program since arriving on campus in 2009 and 2013 proved to be a breakout season as she returned the Buffs to the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 2006. The Buffs advanced to the second round of the tournament after defeating former Big 8/12 opponent lowa State 3-1 in the first round. CU fell in the second round to No. 10 Minnesota, 3-2, in a closely fought match in Minneapolis on the Gophers' home court.

The Buffs finished the 2013 season with an 18-14 record, the most wins since the 2003 season, and tied for seventh in the Pac-12 with a 9-11 record. During the season, CU knocked off three top-25 ranked opponents in No.1 Washington, No. 11 UCLA and No. 25 Arizona. The win against the Huskies was the second time in CU history the Buffs had taken down a top-ranked opponent. All three of those wins came at the Coors Events Center where the Buffs finished with an 8-4 record.

The individual accolades also came in 2013 as junior Taylor Simpson was named to the AVCA All-Pacific South honorable mention team. Simpson, along with sophomore Nicole Edelman, were both named to the All-Pac-12 honorable mention team and Cierra Simpson was named to the Pac-12 All-Freshman honorable mention team. During the season, senior Nikki Lindow earned CU's first Pac-12 Defensive Player of the Week honor after posted a career-high 12 blocks in the win against UCLA, which tied for fourth all-time in CU history.

Kritza came to CU after a very successful four-year stint at Tulane, where she led the Green Wave to an overall record of 76-39 and a Conference USA record of 41-21. Under Kritza's watch, the Green Wave won its first conference championship in 2008 and tied a C-USA record with 15 wins. Tulane earned its first berth to the NCAA Tournament after winning both the C-USA regular season and tournament championships. Tulane advanced to the second round of the NCAA tournament after defeating Tennessee Tech in four sets but fell to Western Michigan in the second round.

In 2007 and 08, Kritza was named the American Volleyball Coaches Association's (AVCA) Midwest Region Coach of the Year after guiding Tulane to 28-6 record both years. The Green Wave recorded its first win over a ranked team in over a decade by defeating then-14th-ranked Middle Tennessee in five sets in 2008. In the process, Tulane also set a school record with 17 straight victories and increased the program's home winning streak to 24 straight at Fogelman Arena. The Green Wave has not dropped a home match since Oct. 29, 2006.

The 2008 season also brought other recognition to Kritza. She was named the C-USA Co-Coach of the Year and the Louisiana Sports Writers Association Coach of the Year, both for the second straight season.

Kritza took the over the reins of the Green Wave program in 2005 and had played just one match before Hurricane Katrina hit. The team had to relocate to College Station, Texas, and had to cancel 10 nonconference matches due to the pending arrival of Hurricane Rita. Despite finishing with a 3-15 overall record, the Green Wave got it Wenger has helped build the program and the Buffs have seen a great deal of success since his arrival in 2012. CU improved in his first season with the Buffs in 2012, recording 14 wins, eight more than in the previous season, as well as four Pac-12 Conference wins, as compared to one in 2011.

CU had a breakout season in 2013, finishing the year with an 18-14 record while tying for seventh in the Pac-12 with a 9-11 record. The 18 wins are the most in a single-season for the Buffs since 2003 when they recorded 21. CU also recorded its first win against a ranked opponent since 2008 and knocked off three top-25 teams during the season in No. 1 Washington, No. 11 UCLA and No. 25 Arizona.

Quite possibly the biggest highlight of the year was the return to the NCAA Tournament for the first time since 2006. The Buffs advanced to the second round of the tournament after defeating Iowa State 3-1, before falling in a close match (3-2) to No. 10 Minnesota in Minneapolis.

Wenger joined the CU program after six seasons with the UCLA men's volleyball team. While coaching at UCLA he served as an assistant under legendary men's coach Al Scates, who retired after his 50th season in 2012. Prior to coaching Wenger was a successful volleyball player. He earned three letters (2001, 2003 and 2004) with the Bruins. In each of those three seasons UCLA made the MPSF Tournament. The Bruins were the NCAA runner-up in 2001, made regionals in 2002 and were regional semifinalists in 2004. As a senior in 2004, he played in 28 matches and recorded 216 kills; helping the Bruins to a 24-6 record. Wenger graduated with a degree in political science in May of 2004 and was a 10-time member of the Director's Honor Roll.

Wenger went on to play professionally after graduation for the Corozal Plantaneros in Corozal, Puerto Rico in June 2004, at which point he worked in the finance industry in Chicago before returning to volleyball at UCLA.

A native of Highland Park, III., Wenger earned letters in soccer (three) and volleyball (four). He graduated from Highland Park High School in 1999 and was named the Illinois Volleyball Player of the Year in 1999. He is married to Marissa Wenger. The couple has a daughter, Vivienne.

UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO

Founded in 1876 at the foot of the Flatirons, 138 years has transformed the University of Colorado from a lone building on a bleak, windswept hill to one of the nation's leading public research institutions. Established in 1861, the University was formally founded in 1876, the year Colorado became a state.

The Boulder campus encompasses almost 800 acres on the main campus, east campus (which includes a research park), Williams Village and the Mountain Research Station north of nearby Nederland (which supports ecology, chemistry and geology). In 1996 the Board of Regents purchased 308 acres of land in unincorporated Boulder County, now informally known as the south campus, in an effort to insure the growth of the University well into the 21st century.

While almost 30,000 students are educated on the main campus, another 13,000 study at the University of Colorado at Denver, the University of Colorado Anschutz Campus (Aurora) and the University of Colorado at Colorado Springs. Nine elected Regents and President Bruce Benson lead the four-campus system, while each campus has a Chancellor who serves as the chief academic and administrative officer. Dr. Phil DiStefano is in his sixth year as the chancellor of the Boulder campus.

Students can enter any of 10 schools and colleges offering more than 2,500 courses in 150 fields, representing a full range of disciplines in the humanities, social sciences, physical and biological sciences, the fine and performing arts, and the professions. CU-Boulder is regularly ranked among the best of the United States' public universities by the Fiske Guide to Colleges, and a 2010 USA Today/Princeton Review survey rated the University of Colorado as the fifth-best value among American public colleges. CU was recently ranked as the No. 33 university in the world by the Times Higher Education.

CU-Boulder has played a major role in NASA space programs, designing and building many scientific instruments flown in outer space, and graduated 18 men and women who became astronauts, including the late Jack Swigert, one of the three astronauts in the crippled Apollo 13 mission who made it dock to Earth safely from the moon. When the Hubble Space Telescope was launched in 1990, it was carrying seven major instruments, including a high-resolution spectrograph to study the evolution of stars and designed and built by an international science team led by astronomer Jack Brandt of CU-Boulder. Since Hubble has been up, CU-Boulder faculty and students have been among the top users of Hubble of any institution in the world. CU-Boulder is the only university in the country where undergraduate students have operated a NASA satellite.

The University has produced 19 Rhodes Scholars, five of which were former football student-athletes at CU, with Jim Hansen the most recent recipient in 1992. Faculty member Thomas Cech, a distinguished professor of chemistry and biochemistry, won the 1989 Nobel Prize in chemistry. Other notable alumni include former United States Supreme Court Justice Byron "Whizzer" White, former big band leader Glenn Miller and actors Robert Redford and Chris Meloni, the latter starring for years on Law & Order: Special Victims Unit, and the creators of South Park, Trey Parker and Matt Stone.

If the aphorism, "Somewhere between the Rockies and reality," seems too good to believe, then come for a visit. Start with a walk on the historic Pearl Street Mall, a downtown pedestrian mall that is the ceremonial heart of the city actually that works despite the efforts of its street theatre.

Visitors may be so taken in by the scenery, the mall, Tudors and Victorians they may forget the University that put it all together. From Pearl, Broadway leads directly onto campus where the University of Colorado Museum and the CU Heritage Center, in the original Old Main building, which introduces the University's past and present. The recently completed ATLAS building is one of the most state-of-the-art structures on any college campus.

Take in the fresh mountain air on any part of 100 miles of trails and 30,000 acres of open space. Climb the Flatirons or in Eldorado Canyon State Park. Swim or board sail at the Boulder Reservoir while elite runners sprint around it. Take in a pro sporting event down the road in Denver, just one of 13 cities with teams in all four pro leagues.

Rest assured, like the prophesy of an Arapaho Indian Chief, "If you leave Boulder, you will return."

PRESIDENT BRUCE BENSON

Bruce D. Benson was named the 22nd president of the University of Colorado in March 2008, after already making his mark in business, politics, philanthropy, education and civic endeavors. In his seventh year heading the entire CU system, he is now the longest-serving CU president in more than half a century.

Since taking the helm of his alma mater, Benson has enhanced CU's standing as one of the nation's leading public universities, advancing the economy, health and culture of Colorado and beyond.

During Benson's tenure, CU's research funding has reached record levels (including the most recent, $774 million in 2012-13), supporting the university's research strengths in biotechnology, health care, energy, and aerospace engineering, among others. He has led efforts to promote cross-campus collaboration that have resulted in cooperative academic programs and research initiatives, most notably CU's Biofrontiers Institute, led by Nobel laureate Tom Cech.

CU has seen its five best fundraising years (including a record $258.8 million in 2012-13) under his leadership. Benson and his wife, Marcy, chaired CU's $1.5 billion Creating Futures fundraising campaign, which exceeded its goal in November 2013. The campaign, the largest in university history, supported scholarships, academic enhancements (endowed faculty positions, programs), research projects and capital improvements across CU's campuses.

Benson has guided efforts to successfully institute operational efficiencies, cut bureaucracy and improve business practices at the university. CU has secured legislation in the Colorado General Assembly that has allowed it to save millions annually in areas such as procurement, insurance and construction. He has also established a number of public-private partnerships to make the university more entrepreneurial and meet the needs of businesses in Colorado and across the country.

He oversees a system with four campuses (Boulder, Colorado Springs, Denver, Anschutz Medical Campus in Aurora) with some 58,000 students (a total of 66,000 students pursue courses for credit). CU has some 27,000 employees. The university's annual budget is $3.1 billion.

Before becoming CU's president, Benson had already made his mark in business, politics, philanthropy, education and civic endeavors. He founded Benson Mineral Group in 1965, a year after earning his bachelor's degree in Geology from CU. Throughout his business career, he has also been involved in banking, real estate, cable television and restaurants.

He has consistently been active in a variety of educational, civic and political endeavors. He was the Republican nominee for Colorado governor in 1994. Benson has received many honors recognizing his leadership in a variety of endeavors, but two are particularly notable: CU in 2004 granted him an Honorary Doctorate of Humane Letters, and in February 2009 he was named to the Colorado Business Hall of Fame.

He was born July 4, 1938, in Chicago, and Benson has three children and 10 grandchildren. His wife, the former Marcy Head, has also dedicated herself to public life, from serving presidents of the United States to volunteering at leadership levels in health care, education, the arts and civic activities. She worked in a variety of capacities for presidents Ronald Reagan and George H.W. Bush and is an active community leader among her many lifetime accomplishments.

CHANCELLOR PHIL DISTEFANO

Dr. Philip P. DiStefano is in his sixth year as the Chancellor at the University of Colorado Boulder.

Prior to his appointment on May 5, 2009, Dr. DiStefano was the top academic officer at CU-Boulder for eight years as the Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs. He served as interim chancellor twice during pivotal times in the university's history.

Dr. DiStefano co-chaired the steering committee for CU-Boulder's visionary strategic plan, Flagship 2030, conceived with campus, community and statewide input, to guide the university for decades to come. Today, Dr. DiStefano is shepherding its implementation as Flagship 2030 has moved from vision to reality.

Dr. DiStefano has served CU-Boulder for 39 years. He joined the University of Colorado in 1974 as an Assistant Professor of Curriculum and Instruction at the School of Education. His academic career flourished as he assumed a series of academic and administrative positions, including Professor, Associate Dean, Dean and Vice Chancellor. He was appointed Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs in 2001.

As Chancellor he works closely with students, faculty, staff, alumni, donors, governing officials, and business and community leaders in extending CU's legacy as a preeminent national comprehensive research university.

A first-generation college graduate, Dr. DiStefano earned a Bachelor of Science degree from Ohio State University and a Master of Arts degree in English Education from West Virginia University. He holds a Doctorate in Humanities Education from Ohio State University, where he served as a teaching and research associate.

He began his educational career as a high school English teacher in Ohio. He has authored and co-authored numerous books and articles on literacy education.

Dr. DiStefano and his wife, Yvonne, have been married for 45 years and are the parents of three grown daughters and two granddaughters.

PROVOST RUSSELL MOORE

Dr. Russell L. Moore has had a long and distinguished career at the University of Colorado Boulder, now serving in the capacity of Provost and Executive Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs, having assumed the position July 1, 2010.

Dr. Moore also previously served as interim vice chancellor for research from May 2009 to July 2010, and prior to that appointment, he was the associate vice chancellor for research since 2006.Dr. Moore served as chair of kinesiology and applied physiology (now integrative physiology) from 1994 to 2001, and was assistant professor (1984-86), associate professor (1993-96) and full professor (1996-present) in that department.

He holds an adjunct professorship in medicine (cardiology) at the University of Colorado's Anschutz Medical Campus at the University of Colorado Denver.

He was an assistant and associate professor (1986-91) in the departments of medicine, cellular and molecular physiology at the Pennsylvania State University College of Medicine in Hershey, Pa. He did postdoctoral work at the University of Texas Health Science Center in Dallas (1981-84).

Dr. Moore earned a Bachelor of Science degree in biochemistry from the University of California at Davis in 1976, and a master's degree (1978) and doctorate (1982) in physiology from Washington State University in Pullman, Wash.

FACULTY REP DAVID CLOUGH

Faculty Athletics Representative Dr. David Clough is a national leader in college athletic reforms and represents CU to the Pac-12 Conference and the NCAA. A professor of chemical and biological engineering, Dr. Clough enters his 10th year as the University of Colorado Boulder's Faculty Athletics Representative (FAR), as he assumed the role in March 2005.

Professor Clough reports to Chancellor DiStefano and works closely with the Director of Athletics, Rick George, and the coaches and staff of Athletics to support student-athletes, especially in their academic pursuits. The FAR's duties include oversight of the eligibility certification and compliance functions on the Boulder Campus. He strives to be well known to CU's student-athletes, and he and his wife Sydney are present at many home competitions of CU's sports teams. He also travels with many CU teams to away competitions.

Dr. Clough replaced Chancellor Phil DiStefano, who served as FAR from June 1, 2000 until just shortly after his appointment as interim chancellor for the Boulder campus in 2005. Clough is only the sixth FAR in CU history, joining a prestigious list: Walter Franklin (1947-1948), Warren Thompson (1949-1966), William Baughn (1967-1989), James Corbridge (1989-2000) and DiStefano (2000-2005).

Dr. Clough has had a significant impact on engineering education at CU-Boulder and beyond through career-long efforts to enhance the learning of engineering students. He has pioneered active- and cooperative-learning techniques in the College of Engineering and Applied Science, and in 1989 he originated the concept of the Integrated Teaching and Learning Laboratory. Clough's research has focused on the automated control of chemical and related processes.

He has been involved with student-athlete success for more than 30 years as his relationship with the CU athletic department dates to more than three decades. Throughout his career, Dr. Clough has taken a special interest in engineering student-athletes, long appreciating the combined academic and athletic challenges they face. He played an integral role in the Rhodes Scholarship candidacy of Buff football star Jim Hansen, an Academic All-American who was awarded the Rhodes in 1993.

Dr. Clough received his bachelor's degree from the Case Institute of Technology (now Case Western Reserve University) in 1968 and his master's from CU-Boulder in 1969, both in chemical engineering. He worked as an engineer for E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., Inc., from 1969 to 1972 before returning to CU-Boulder to earn his doctorate in 1975. He joined the faculty of the Department of Chemical Engineering at that time.

He served as the college's associate dean for academic affairs from 1986 to 1992, playing a role in a number of important initiatives, including the Gemmill Engineering Library, the Herbst Humanities Program, and the Integrated Teaching and Learning Laboratory. From 1993 through 1999, he was associate chair of the Department of Chemical Engineering and was responsible for significant improvements to the department's undergraduate advising program.

Known for his willingness to experiment with new educational concepts and technology, Dr. Clough has worked to reform traditional lecture classes into an interactive workshop format that greatly enhances the learning of students. Through these efforts, he has helped to reshape the way engineering is taught. The student-run Engineering Excellence Fund chose Dr. Clough as the first recipient of the Sullivan-Carlson Inspiration in Teaching Award in 1998. He has received numerous teaching and advising awards from nominations by his students over the years. He also has been given the college's Hutchinson Teaching Award and Peters Service Award. He received the first Boulder Faculty Assembly Teaching Award in 1980 and the Boulder Campus Outstanding Advisor Award in 1996. His merit as an educator also has been recognized outside CU. In 1995 the American Society for Engineering Education (Rocky Mountain Section) presented him with its first Outstanding Educator Award.

In April 2000, he received the college's Distinguished Engineering Alumnus Award in the Education category. It recognized his significant impact on engineering education through pioneering the active learning concept for the Integrated Teaching and Learning Laboratory, and in leading the college in changing traditional lecture courses to an active learning format.

In his role as Faculty Athletics Representative, Clough represents CU to the Pac-12 Conference and the NCAA. He provides a liaison between Athletics and the faculty and works to enhance the educational experience of 350 student-athletes. Clough has been active in the Faculty Athletics Representatives Association (FARA) and will become President of FARA in November. In his time as FAR, Dr. Clough has established a reputation for his expertise in the NCAA's Academic Performance Program and the program's statistics tracking the academic progress of student-athletes, the Academic Progress Rate (APR) and the Graduation Success Rate (GSR). He has developed tracking and predictive tools that have been shared with over 100 NCAA Division I institutions.

He and his wife, Sydney, have four grown children, Astrid, William, Rodney and Damon, and four grandchildren. Dr. Clough's father, John W. Clough, was a chemical engineer, and his two brothers are retired engineers. The Clough family established a scholarship endowment in engineering at CU in honor of John Clough, who died in 1994. The family holds a strong belief in giving back to the educational institutions that have benefited its members.

ATHLETIC DIRECTOR RICK GEORGE

Rick George was introduced as just the sixth full-time athletic director in University of Colorado history on July 17, 2013, returning to Boulder where he helped play a role in the school's first and only national championship in football some 23 years earlier.

George, 54, came to Colorado from the Texas Rangers baseball club of the American League, where he was named chief operating officer on October 5, 2010 with a promotion to president of business operations this past February. He agreed to a 5-year contract at CU, and he officially started on the job on August 12, 2013.

His list of first-year achievements were many, but none more significant than shepherding through a $143 Athletic Complex Expansion from creation through fruition, gaining approval from the Board of Regents and then raising over one-third of the estimated cost to initiate construction, which began May 12, 2014. The project is the core of the Sustainable Excellence Initiative (SEI), the jewel of which will be a long-awaited indoor practice facility.

George implemented the department's first-ever comprehensive strategic plan, which will map CU's immediate and long range purpose and goals. He also redesigned the management teams (without coming in and eliminating or forcing out longtime staff just for the sake of it like others have done), made tough budget decisions that reduced deficits he inherited, and canvassed the state, region and nation in both friend- and fundraising.

Near the end of his first year, he was recognized by CU's Student-Athlete Advisory Committee as its choice for Staff Member of the Year; no token award, the group acknowledged his attendance at most home athletic events, regular meetings with team captains of all programs to interact with them and receive their feedback, and willingness to meet with any student-athlete and that his door is always open to them.

George brings the most diverse background to the position than any before him at Colorado: all five others had extensive and primarily exclusive college athletic histories, the only exceptions being when Marolt left CU after 10 years as ski coach to lead the U.S. Olympic ski team before returning, and Tharp, who was a university attorney with strong CU-Boulder campus ties. While George began and worked in the college athletic world for the first half of his professional career, he stepped outside that box for the second half.

George is just the sixth full-time athletic director in Colorado history, following in the footsteps of Harry Carlson (1927-65), Eddie Crowder (1965-84), Bill Marolt (1984-96), Dick Tharp (1996-2004) and Mike Bohn (2005-13). Two others have bridged directors in interim capacities, Jack Lengyel (six months between Tharp and Bohn) and Ceal Barry (two months between Bohn and George).

George was with the Rangers for less than three years, but saw the team win two American League championships and compile a 243-176 record (.580 winning percentage) during his time there, second-best in the major leagues during that time frame. As the COO, he worked closely with team president and CEO, baseball Hall-of-Famer Nolan Ryan, and was responsible for all facets of the Rangers' business operations, including oversight of all sales and marketing efforts, broadcast and communications, ticket and suite sales, naming rights, etc., in addition to overseeing the finance, human resource and operations depart-

Among his many accomplishments with the Rangers was a comprehensive branding study that successfully rebranded the ball club, and an implementation of a new ticketing strategy that over the course of three seasons increased ticket revenues by over $30 million. The club's attendance saw an increase of 40 percent from the 2010 season to nearly 3.5 million in 2012, second in the American League (behind the New York Yankees) and third in the majors. The 2013 numbers were on pace to exceed the 3 million mark again when he left the franchise for CU.

Prior to joining the Rangers, George served as executive vice president and chief of operations for the PGA TOUR for two-and-a-half years (beginning in June 2008). While with the TOUR, he worked with the corporate marketing department in renewing sponsorships and creating new events. He also oversaw the Tournament Business Affairs division that worked with Tournaments to increase tournament revenue.

He also worked for the PGA TOUR as president of the Champions Tour from 2003-08, and as the executive vice president for championship management his last three years there. His major accomplishments included increasing revenues and sponsorships and the development of strategic plans, the latter including a vision and mission statement as well as core values. The Champions Tour had grown to a minimum 29 events with over $55 million in prize money when he left for the PGA TOUR.

From 1998-2003, George served as President and CEO of the Fore!Kids Foundation, a 501c3 organization that raised money for children's charities via golf-related events, where he led rebranding and organizational efforts that resulted in increases in charitable giving to the Foundation.

At the collegiate level, George worked in three major conferences (Big Ten, Big 8, Southeastern) in football operations, beginning with his alma mater, the University of Illinois, as football recruiting coordinator (1983-87).

He graduated from Illinois in 1982 with a Bachelor of Arts in Liberal Arts & Sciences Individual Study that had an emphasis on Sports Communication and Journalism. He was a four-year letterman at cornerback for the Illini, playing in 44 straight games and starting in 27 games in all, as he played two years each under coaches Gary Moeller and Mike White. He was a two-time recipient of the school's Bruce Capel Award, given for dedication and courage to honor Capel who lost his life serving his country in Vietnam; George received the honor for his junior and senior seasons.

Upon his graduation, White named him the assistant director for player personnel for the Illini, and a year later (1983), he assumed the all sports recruiting coordinator. In March 1984, George took over the recruiting chores solely for football, with his first class ranked No. 1 in the nation by the recruiting services with all in the top 20; he coordinated five classes in all at Illinois when the call came to take him out west to Colorado.

On March 2, 1987, Bill McCartney hired him as Colorado's football recruiting coordinator. Two-and-a-half years later (Dec. 21, Rick and granddaughter Harper at ESPN's Basketball Game Day (February 2014).

1989), George was promoted to assistant athletic director for football operations, not coincidentally after the Buffaloes finished the regular season with an 11-0 record and the school's first-ever No. 1 national ranking in the polls. CU lost to Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl and would finish No. 4, but came back to go 11-1-1 in 1990, this time defeating the Irish in the Orange Bowl to earn consensus national champion honors.

Shortly thereafter, he left the Buffaloes for Vanderbilt University, where he was reunited with former CU offensive coordinator Gerry DiNardo, who was named the Commodores' head coach a year earlier. In eight years at Vanderbilt (1991-98), he also served as associate athletic director for external operations in conjunction with overseeing the football program. This was where George first expanded his professional role outside of solely football, as he had oversight over all external departments, particularly in the area of managing budgets and developing marketing and promotional strategies for all sports.

George was born April 3, 1960 in Woodstock, Ill., and graduated from Collinsville (Ill.) High School, where he lettered in football, basketball and baseball. He is married to the former Nancy Green, and the couple has two grown daughters, Jenni Reed (husband Tom) and Christi, and one granddaughter (Harper).

PAC-12 CONFERENCE

PAC-12 CONFERENCE, THE CONFERENCE OF CHAMPIONS

Built on a firm foundation of academic excellence and superior athletic performance, the Conference ushered in a new era on July 1, 2011, officially becoming the Pac-12 Conference with the additions of the University of Colorado and University of Utah.

Just 27 days after the Conference officially changed its name, Commissioner Larry Scott announced the creation of the Pac-12 Networks on July 27, 2011, solidifying a landmark television deal and putting the Conference on the forefront of collegiate athletics. The Networks, including one national network, six regional networks, and a robust digital network marked the first-ever integrated media company owned by a college conference. In addition, the "TV Everywhere" rights allow fans to access Pac-12 Networks outside the home on any digital device, including smartphones and tablet computers.

In 2011, the Pac-12 also launched its Globalization Initiative to proactively promote the Conference and member institutions through student-athlete exchanges and sport. In its first three years, Pac-12 student-athletes have enjoyed unique cultural and athletic experiences in China, fielding full university and Pac-12 all-star teams in women's volleyball and men's basketball, with plans to play the first-ever men's basketball regular season game in China in November 2015, and the Conference and its member schools have gained significant brand exposure for the future and set a foundation for growth.

On the field, the Pac-12 rises above the rest, upholding its tradition as the "Conference of Champions ®," claiming an incredible 131 NCAA team titles since 1999-2000, including 10 in 2013-14. That is an average of nearly nine championships per academic year. Even more impressive has been the breadth of the Pac-12's success, with championships coming in 28 different men's and women's sports. The Pac-12 has led or tied the nation in NCAA Championships in 48 of the last 54 years, the only exceptions being in 1980-81, 1988-89, 1990-91 and 1995-96 when the Conference finished second, and only twice finished third in 1998-99 and 2004-05.

For the ninth-consecutive year, the Pac-12 had the most NCAA titles or tied for the most of any conference in the country, winning at least six every year since 2000-01. No other conference has won double-digit NCAA crowns in a single year, the Pac-12 doing so seven times, including a record 14 in 1996-97.

Spanning nearly a century of outstanding athletics achievements, the Pac-12 was the first conference to reach 400 championships in 2010-11. With the inclusion of Colorado and Utah, the Conference surpassed another major milestone, with league teams capturing 450 titles, outdistancing the next conference by nearly 200. In all, Conference teams have won 469 NCAA Championships (287 men's, 154 women's, 28 combined).

Pac-12 members have won 287 NCAA team championships on the men's side, 83 more than the next closest conference. Men's NCAA crowns have come at a phenomenal rate for the Pac-12 - 16 basketball titles by six schools (more than any other conference), 54 tennis titles, 46 outdoor track & field crowns, and 28 baseball titles. Pac-12 members have won 25 of 45 NCAA titles in volleyball, 40 of 45 in water polo, 28 in skiing, and 24 in swimming & diving national championships.

Individually, the Conference has produced an impressive number of NCAA individual champions. Over 2,000 (2,167) individual crowns have been won by Pac-12 student-athletes over the years with 1,485 by male student-athletes.

On the women's side, the story is much the same. Since the NCAA began conducting women's championships 33 years ago, Pac-12 members have claimed at least four national titles in a single season on 24 occasions, including 14-consecutive years from 2000-2014. Overall, the Pac-12 has captured 154 NCAA women's titles, easily outdistancing the SEC, which is second with 93. Pac-12 members have dominated a number of sports, winning 23 softball titles, 21 tennis crowns, 14 volleyball titles, 15 of the last 25 trophies in golf, and 13 in swimming & diving.

Pac-12 women student-athletes shine nationally on an individual basis, as well, having captured an unmatched 682 NCAA individual crowns, an average of nearly 21 championships per season.

PAC-12 CONFERENCE HISTORY

The roots of the Pac-12 Conference date back 99 years to December 2, 1915, when the Pacific Coast Conference (PCC) was founded at a meeting at the Oregon Hotel in Portland, Ore. The original membership consisted of four schools - the University of California at Berkeley, the University of Washington, the University of Oregon, and Oregon State College (now Oregon State University). All still are charter members of the Conference.

Pacific Coast Conference play began in 1916 and, one year later, Washington State College (now Washington State University) was accepted into the league, with Stanford University following in 1918.

In 1922, the PCC expanded to eight teams with the admission of the University of Southern California (USC) and the University of Idaho. In 1924, the University of Montana joined the league roster, and in 1928, the PCC grew to 10 members with the addition of UCLA.

The Pacific Coast Conference competed as a 10-member league until 1950, with the exception of 1943-45 when World War II curtailed intercollegiate athletic competition to a minimum. During that time, the league's first commissioner was named. Edwin N. Atherton was Commissioner in 1940 and was succeeded by Victor O. Schmidt in 1944. In 1950, Montana resigned from the Conference and the PCC continued as a nine-team Conference through 1958.

In 1959, the PCC was dissolved and the Athletic Association of Western Universities (AAWU) was formed with Thomas J. Hamilton was appointed Commissioner of the new league. The original AAWU membership included California, Stanford, USC, UCLA and Washington. Washington State joined the membership in 1962, while Oregon and Oregon State joined in 1964. Under Hamilton's watch, the name Pacific-8 Conference was adopted in 1968. In 1971, Wiles Hallock took over as Commissioner of the Pac-8.

Ten years later, on July 1, 1978, the University of Arizona and Arizona State University were admitted to the league and the Pacific-10 Conference became a reality. In 1986-87, the league took on a new look, expanding to include 10 women's sports. Since then, the Conference has been considered the premiere league in women's athletics, securing the most NCAA titles in women's sports of any conference nearly every year.

Thomas C. Hansen was named the Commissioner of the Pac-10 in 1983, a role he would hold for 26 years until 2009, and was succeeded by current Commissioner Larry Scott, who took on the new role in July 2009.

PAC-12 CONFERENCE

During the 2010-11 academic year, the University of Colorado accepted its invitation to join the Pac-12 on June 11, 2010, and on June 17, 2010, the University of Utah agreed to join the Conference. The Buffaloes and Utes officially became the 11th and 12th members of the Conference on July 1, 2011, the first additions to the league since 1978.

It was during that 2010-11 academic year that Scott helped deliver monumental changes that transformed the Conference into a modern 12-team league. In addition to expanding to 12 teams, member institutions agreed to equal revenue sharing for the first time in the Conference's history, created two divisions - the North and the South, for football only and established a Football Championship Game for the first time ever. He also secured a landmark media rights deal that dramatically increased national exposure and revenue for each school, establishing the Pac-12 Networks and Pac-12 Digital Network that guaranteed enhanced exposure across all sports.

Currently, the Pac-12 sponsors 11 men's sports and 11 women's sports. Additionally, the Conference is a member of the Mountain Pacific Sports Federation (MPSF) in four other men's sports and three women's sports.

The Pac-12 Conference offices are located in the heart of San Francisco in the SOMA district.

Mads Stroem was the NCAA 20-kilometer freestyle champion as a freshman in 2014.

2013-14 REVIEW

In 2013-14, the Pac-12 Conference's 10 national titles came in the form of six men's and four women's crowns. Six different league schools claimed NCAA titles and, of the seven NCAA institutions to have won multiples titles, three were from the Pac-12. No other conference in the country had more than one team win multiple NCAA titles.

Oregon was one of three teams in the country to win three NCAA titles this academic season, its first time doing so. The Ducks took home the hardware in men's outdoor track & field, the program's first team title in the sport since 1984, and swept the men's and women's indoor national championships. An additional four teams in the country had two NCAA titles, including USC and UCLA. The Trojans continue to dominate the sports of men's water polo and men's tennis, winning a sixth-straight title in the pool and a fifth in six years on the court. The Bruins won the conference's third-ever women's soccer title and the program's first, while also taking home the women's tennis crown.

But it was the Buffaloes who kicked off the year for the conference winning its fourth NCAA men's cross country title. California was first in men's swimming, the program's third national championship in four years, and Stanford won its third women's water polo crown in four years, extending the school's streak of at least one NCAA team championship to 38 consecutive years.

Participation in the postseason was a common occurrence for the Pac-12 in 2013-14. Of the 22 sports it sponsors, 19 witnessed at least half its teams participating in NCAA or other postseason action. The men sent 79 of a possible 100 teams into the postseason (79.4 percent), while the women sent 83 of a possible 115 teams (72.2 percent).

CU claimed its fourth NCAA men's cross country title in 2013.

2013 IN REVIEW

The 2013 season was a memorable one for the University of Colorado volleyball program as the Buffs recorded their first season above .500 (18-14) for the first time since 2006.

It was also the first time since 2006 that the Buffs advanced to the NCAA Tournament; their 17th overall appearance in the tournament. The Buffs climbed the Pac-12 Conference ladder as well, and finished the season tied for seventh with a 9-11 record.

Colorado hosted St. Mary's (Calif.) to start the season on backto-back nights at the Coors Events Center. CU dropped its home opener (1-3) but bounced back on the following night to defeat the Gaels with the same score (3-1).

The Buffs kept rolling the following weekend at the Candlewood Suites Invitational in Syracuse, N.Y. CU picked up four wins against Stony Brook, Oakland, Rutgers and Syracuse to win the tournament. Junior outside hitter Taylor Simpson was named the tournament's MVP and sophomore setter Nicole Edelman was selected to the all-tournament team.

The next weekend, CU headed back to Big 12 country to play at the Baylor Invitational in Waco, Texas, but despite the trip away from Boulder, the team's thoughts were with the community as Boulder was experiencing one of the most devastating floods in Colorado history. The team left for Texas, but senior middle blocker Nikki Lindow stayed to help her family save their ranch.

The Buffs focused on the task at hand and defeated Appalachian State (3-2) and Northwestern State (3-0) on Sept. 13, but their toughest test would be BU on Sept. 14. The Buffs had lost the previous eight meetings against the Bears while members of the Big 12 Conference and coach Liz Kritza had never beaten the Bears while at CU. Things back in Boulder had settled a bit, so Lindow was able to reioin the team for the match. CU shocked BU, sweeping the Bears in three sets to win the BU Invitational. Edelman was named the MVP and senior outside hitter Kerra Schroeder was the defensive MVP. Sophomore outside hitter Alexis Austin and freshman libero Cierra Simpson were also named to the all-tournament team.

After that tournament, CU was 8-1, which included an eight-match winning streak that tied for the fifth best in CU history. But it was time to switch gears and start the Pac-12 season.

The Buffs started the conference season at Utah, and despite putting up a great fight and taking Utah to five sets in Salt Lake City, CU fell 15-12 in the fifth set, snapping the eight-match win streak. The Buffs didn't dwell on the loss with a tough test looming just three days later when they opened their home Pac-12 schedule against No. 11 UCLA. CU came out strong and defeated the Bruins for the first time ever in a thrilling five-set match in front of a season-best crowd of 2,777 at the CEC. The win was Kritza's first against a ranked team.

CU had one last regular season non-conference match following the win over UCLA. The Buffs headed north on I-25 to Laramie, Wyo. to face the Cowgirls. CU lost the first two sets, but dominated the next two games to force a fifth set. Unfortunately UW came out strong in the fifth set and won 15-11 to take the match.

The Buffs returned home to the CEC and rebounded well as they picked up play in the Pac-12. CU welcomed top-ranked Washington, which was a perfect 10-0 on the season, but the Buffs were ready and soundly defeated the Huskies in four sets for their second win ever against a top-ranked program. The last time the Buffs beat a No. 1 team was in 2006 when they knocked off Nebraska. The win was also CU's second against a ranked opponent in a week, which CU hadn't done since 2005.

CU kept rolling, defeating a feisty Washington State team just two days later, also in four sets, and improved to 3-1 in the Pac-12. The Buffs left the CEC for a four-match road trip that didn't treat them very well. CU dropped three straight to Cal, No. 8 Stanford and No. 21 Oregon, before facing Oregon State. Colorado had not won a Pac-12 road match since entering the league in 2011, but things were about to change and the Buffs broke that streak on Oct. 20 with a sweep over OSU in Corvallis, Ore. It was also the first conference road victory for CU since 2010.

The Buffs returned home after that tough four-match road trip and the CEC continued to be a daunting place for opponents to play. CU hosted its third ranked opponent of the season, No. 25 Arizona, and once again the Buffs pulled off the upset (25-18, 25-19, 25-23). CU kept going and picked up a four-set win (25-22, 17-25, 26-24, 25-23) against Arizona State.

The Buffs hit the road to start the second half of the Pac-12 season and were determined to keep on the winning track. They went down 0-2 to WSU at Pullman, Wash., but rallied back to win the match in five (22-25, 19-25, 25-15, 25-20, 15-13) for their second road conference win of the season.

The No. 3 UW Huskies were next, but this time they took revenge on the Buffs (18-25, 15-25, 19-25). CU dropped the following four matches; including two at home against No. 6 Stanford and No. 22 Cal, for the first home conference losses of the season. CU also dropped contests to Arizona State and Arizona.

With four regular season matches remaining, three of those at the CEC, the Buffs needed to get back on track and that was exactly what they did in the next match against OSU. CU picked up the sweep (28-26, 25-21, 25-20) against the Beavers, but couldn't keep the momentum going, falling to Oregon two days later (27-29, 21-25, 25-20, 13-25).

The final home match of the season came against Utah and the Buffs wanted revenge for the close loss that started the Pac-12 season. It was another extremely close match, but CU pulled away with the five-set victory (16-25, 25-23, 23-25, 25-22, 16-14), finishing with a 7-3 conference record at the CEC.

CU had one final match of the regular season, this one against No. 7 USC in Los Angeles. The Buffs fought hard, but the Trojans pulled away with the win (26-24, 25-14, 25-21). CU finished the regular season 17-13 and was selected to compete in their first NCAA Tournament since 2006.

The first round of the tournament brought CU its second former Big 12 opponent of the season, lowa State. The Buffs dropped the first set to the Cyclones, but bounced back to win the next three to take the match, snapping a five-match losing streak to ISU, and more importantly, move on to the second round of the tournament for the ninth-time in CU history. Junior Kelsey English served up six aces in the win, the most ever by a Buff in a single NCAA match.

The Buffs squared off against No. 10 Minnesota, the host, in the second round the following night. The Gophers took the first two sets (25-20, 25-18) before CU rallied to win the next two sets (25-17, 25-21). The match went down to the wire, but UM took the set 15-9 to end CU's magical season.

The Buffs finished the nonconference schedule with a 9-3 record (.750), finishing at or above .500 for the 25th straight season.

Taylor Simpson led the Buffs with 390 kills (3.61 kills per set) and ranked eighth in the Pac-12 while hitting .173 during the season. She was also ninth in the conference in points per set (4.03). Austin ranked second on the team with 278 kills (2.65 kills per set) and Schroeder was third with 221 kills (1.87 kills per set). English was fifth in the Pac-12 in hitting efficiency at .361 (213 kills and 50 errors on 452 attacks) and ranked third in service aces with 0.36 per set. Lindow had the second-best hitting percentage on the team at .335 and averaged 2.01 kills per set. She ranked 10th in league-only matches with a .321 hitting percentage.

Edelman surpassed the 2,000-career assists mark during the year, adding 1,145 during the season (10.13 assists per set) which was sixth in the Pac-12. In league only stats, she was fourth with 10.10 assists per set. In total, Edelman has recorded 2,205 assists, which is seventh all-time at CU.

Freshman libero Cierra Simpson recorded 372 digs and averaged 3.21 digs per set while her sister Taylor Simpson ranked second on the team with 2.32 digs per set (288 digs). Schroeder played a huge role in the back row and ranked third on the squad with 2.32 digs per set (274 digs).

Lindow led the Buffs for the fourth straight season at the net, the first Buff ever to do so, with 133 blocks (15 solo and 118 assists).

Her 1.23 blocks per set ranked seventh in the league and she was also eighth in league-only matches with 1.22 blocks per set. Lindow became the fourth Buff to record 400 or more career blocks and finished third on the all-time chart with 426. English added 0.72 blocks per set (84 total) and Taylor Simpson was third on the team with 0.63 blocks per set (68 total).

The Buffs earned a lot of well-deserved recognition for their hard work. Taylor Simpson was named the CU Athlete of the Week four times and Austin, Edelman and English each were honored with the award once. Lindow picked up CU's first ever Pac-12 Volleyball Defensive Player of the Week on Sept. 30 after guiding CU to its five-set win against No. 11 UCLA.

The honors were beyond the regular season and a trio of Buffs were named to Pac-12 honorable mention teams. Edelman and Simpson were each selected to the All-Pac-12 honorable mention squad and Cierra Simpson was selected to the Pac-12 All-Freshman honorable mention team. Taylor Simpson was also recognized regionally for her season as she was named to the AVCA All-Pacific South Region honorable mention team, CU's first all-region honoree since 2006.

Several Buffs were recognized for their accomplishments off the court. Richardson was named to the Academic All-Pac-12 First Team for the third straight season. Jessica Aschenbrenner, Edelman, English and Schroeder received honorable mention honors.

At the year-end banquet, several more awards were handed out. Taylor Simpson was named the team's Offensive MVP, while Lindow was honored as the Defensive MVP. Aschenbrenner and Cierra Simpson shared the Most Improved award. Freshman Katherine Hawkins earned the Shoulder to Shoulder award (the player who is committed to the team's success at all times and is a selfless individual who provides constant support to all teammates in support of team ideals and goals) and Richardson was named the winner of the Golden Buffalo Award (the player who demonstrates great work ethic and takes personal responsibility for continual progress and improvement). A new award for the 2013 season, the Heart of the Buffalo, was given to senior Ana Pantovic and Edelman, for their continued dedication towards the team and program as a whole.

1993 Big Eight Champions

The 1993 University of Colorado volleyball team had set very lofty goals. They wanted to win the Big Eight regular season championship, repeat as Big Eight Tournament Champions, win all of their home matches and reach the Final Four of the NCAA Tournament.

Well, three for four isn't bad, especially given what the Buffs were up against.

The Buffs finished the season 26-6, still their best-ever record, and breezed through Big Eight play with an 11-1 record, winning their first-ever conference championship. Not bad given the fact in the 17-year history of Big Eight volleyball, the Buffs became just the second team to win a conference title behind Nebraska.

Wanting to validate both what they did in the regular season and what they did in the 1992 Big Eight Tournament, the Buffs then repeated as conference tournament champions. Going back to the 1992 conference tournament, Nebraska had only lost six times to conference opponents in its history, and the Buffs had just beat them for the third time in four outings for the tournament title.

The Buffs advanced to the NCAA tournament for the fourth time, and although they didn't reach the coveted Final Four, they did win the program's first-ever NCAA Tournament match, a three-game win over Illinois.

Nicole Vranesh and Karrie Downey (first-team) and Janine Zumerchik (second-team) all garnered all-District honors in 1993 and they were joined on the all-Big Eight team by Staci Wolfe.

Vranesh would leave as the Big Eight's all-time leading setter and one of its best competitors as she missed just one game in her last three years. That's one game, not match.

CU's Big Eight Tourney Champs

THE 1992 BIG EIGHT TOURNAMENT

The Buffs in 1992 did what nobody thought possible. In a conference tournament dominated by Nebraska, the Buffs went in and showed the country what CU volleyball was quickly becoming.

The Buffs finished 10-2 in the Big Eight regular season, losing to the Cornhuskers twice, and after beating lowa State 15-9, 15-6, 15-6 in the first round, the showdown was on. The Buffs went in the match 0-15 lifetime against the Huskers and, in fact, they had lost only six matches in their history to a conference team.

It was a hard-fought 16-14, 15-11, 9-15, 15-8 win for the Buffs, who were paced by senior Michele Kohler (23 kills, 17 digs) and sophomore Karrie Downey (22 kills, 18 digs). Lots of other young Buffs had impressive matches, as well, with sophomores Staci Wolfe (15 kills, 21 digs) and Janine Zumerchik (13 kills, three blocks) and junior Nicole Vranesh (67 assists, 16 digs) doing most of the damage.

THE 1993 BIG EIGHT TOURNAMENT

After winning their first-ever Conference Championship in 1993, the Buffs came back and extended their conference tournament winning streak to four matches, as they proved they were, indeed, the best team in the Big Eight in 1993.

They finished the regular season 11-1, and after yet another first round defeat of lowa State, this time 7-15, 15-8, 15-10, 15-7, the Buffs came back and had to go through the feared Huskers for their second straight tournament victory.

The match was close throughout, as the 7-15, 15-10, 9-15, 15-13, 15-11 score was a good indicator of this close match. Junior Karrie Downey led the attack with 25 kills and 27 digs, while sophomore Leah Williams had 14 kills and hit .345. Staci Wolfe finished off a solid tournament with 11 kills as did Janine Zumerchik. Freshman Rachel Wacholder chipped in 10 kills and 14 digs and senior Nicole Vranesh had 59 assists and 17 digs.

- ✓ STAT SHOTS-Downey surpasses Tina Murray in both career kills, digs and attacks and goes out as the all-time Big Eight leader in all three categories. She has a CU record 41 digs against lowa State on Nov. 5 and her 4.39 digs per game average is the only instance in CU history when a player has averaged over 4.0 per game.
- ✓ STAT SHOTS—Staci Wolfe records 31 kills against Texas A&M on Sept. 18, setting a record for four games that still stands and surpassing the 1,000 kill plateau in what would be her last match. She was the fourth player to reach 1,000 kills and just a match earlier was the fifth to reach 1,000 digs for a career.
- ✓ STAT SHOTS—Janine Zumerchik became the fifth Buff to record 1,000 career kills, and is still the only middle blocker in CU history over 1,000 kills.
- ✓ STAT SHOTS—Rachel Wacholder led the Big Eight in conference matches with 22 aces in 37 games, averaging .60 per game.

HEAD COACH: Brad Saindon (Arizona State '76, Oklahoma '84) ASSISTANT COACHES: Pi'i Aiu (Colorado '89), Katie Zabransky (Wisconsin '93)

- ✓ Oct. 21 CU falls at Nebraska in three games before a then-NCAA record crowd of 11,529.
- ✓ Nov. 24—Playing against lowa State in the last Big Eight Conference Tournament, Rachel Wacholder shatters the NCAA record for attacks in a fourgame match with a mind-blowing 106.
- ✓ Nov. 29—The Buffs make their fifth straight NCAA Tournament, sixth overall and seventh straight post-season appearance as they travel to Northern Iowa, who earned revenge against the Buffs who beat them in the 1994 NCAA Tournament and swept CU to end its season.
- AWARDS—Leah Williams is named first-team alldistrict and first-team all-Big Eight. Sarah Lodge earns the Big Eight Newcomer of the Year award, the first CU player to earn that honor.
- ✓ STAT SHOTS—Leah Williams led the Big Eight conference with a 1.64 blocks per game average, a mark that was good for sixth in the NCAA. That average and her 177 total blocks are still CU records.
- ✓ STAT SHOTS—Rachel Wacholder becomes the sixth player in program history to reach 1,000 kills and the sixth to reach 1,000 digs, in doing so she became the fourth to reach 1,000 in both. Her 34 digs against Georgia Tech in five games is still the CU record for five games and her 40 against lowa State at the Big Eight Tournament is just the second time a player's had 40 or more digs.

- 15th in 16 years.

COORS EVENTS CENTER & PRACTICE FACILITY

The University of Colorado Coors Events/Conference Center has been the home of Colorado volleyball since 1988. The Center was originally called the CU Events/Conference Center, but was renamed in September 1990 in honor of a $5 million gift from the Adolph Coors Foundation. The Events Center is named after the Coors family in recog-nition of this gift and their generous support of the university.

The addition of a volleyball/basketball practice facility became a reality in March, 2010 when the university broke ground on the project and was opened on Aug. 20, 2011. The facility addition sits directly adjacent to the north side of Coors Events Center and adds 35,000 square feet of space and features two dedicated basketball/volleyball courts, modern locker rooms, coaches' offices and team meeting rooms for the women's volleyball team.

Located just north of the Kittredge student housing complex on the Boulder campus, the CECC seats 11,064 and offers the Buffaloes a great home court advantage. CU has a 237-138 home record in their 28 years with a 232-126 mark at the CECC. (Matches in 1986 and most of 1987 were played in the Balch Fieldhouse). Colorado has recorded at least 10 home wins in a season in 15 of the past 26 seasons including a perfect 14-0 mark in 1993. CU has been ranked nationally in attendance in 15 of the past 19 seasons, including a No. 19 ranking in 1989 and 20th in 1999.

There are three levels to the Events Center. The arena floor occupies 8,000 square feet. The CU men's and women's basketball operations offices are on the second level along with a weight room for the basketball and volleyball teams. The concourse level contains the main entrances, concession areas, ticket offices and a first-aid room.

The $7.7-million facility was financed by a combination of funds. State legis-lative appropriation, federal grants, private contributions and university funds all played a major part in the facility's construction revenue.

The CECC is within walking distance from all points of campus, and parking for Colorado volleyball matches is free to the public in the parking garage located just north of the arena. The southwest entrance faces the majestic flatirons, the mountains located west of campus, providing Colorado fans with one of most beautiful views in all of collegiate athletics when they arrive to the game.

Other events taking place at Coors include concerts and commencement for the fall semester. Bob Dylan, Jack Ingram and Juice Newton are just some of the artists who have taken the stage in the Events Center, providing an indoor venue for CU students and Boulder residents equipped to attract some of the best entertainers in the World.
